

The "Home of the Distant Present"?

What understanding of domestic life is required by "smart homes"?

Tim Diggins
Red56
tim@red56.co.uk

and

Peter Tolmie
Xerox Research
peter.tolmie@xrce.xerox.com

Available at a glance

Available after inspection

Available at a glance (locally worked-up practice)

rubbish

fridge

12 6 2000

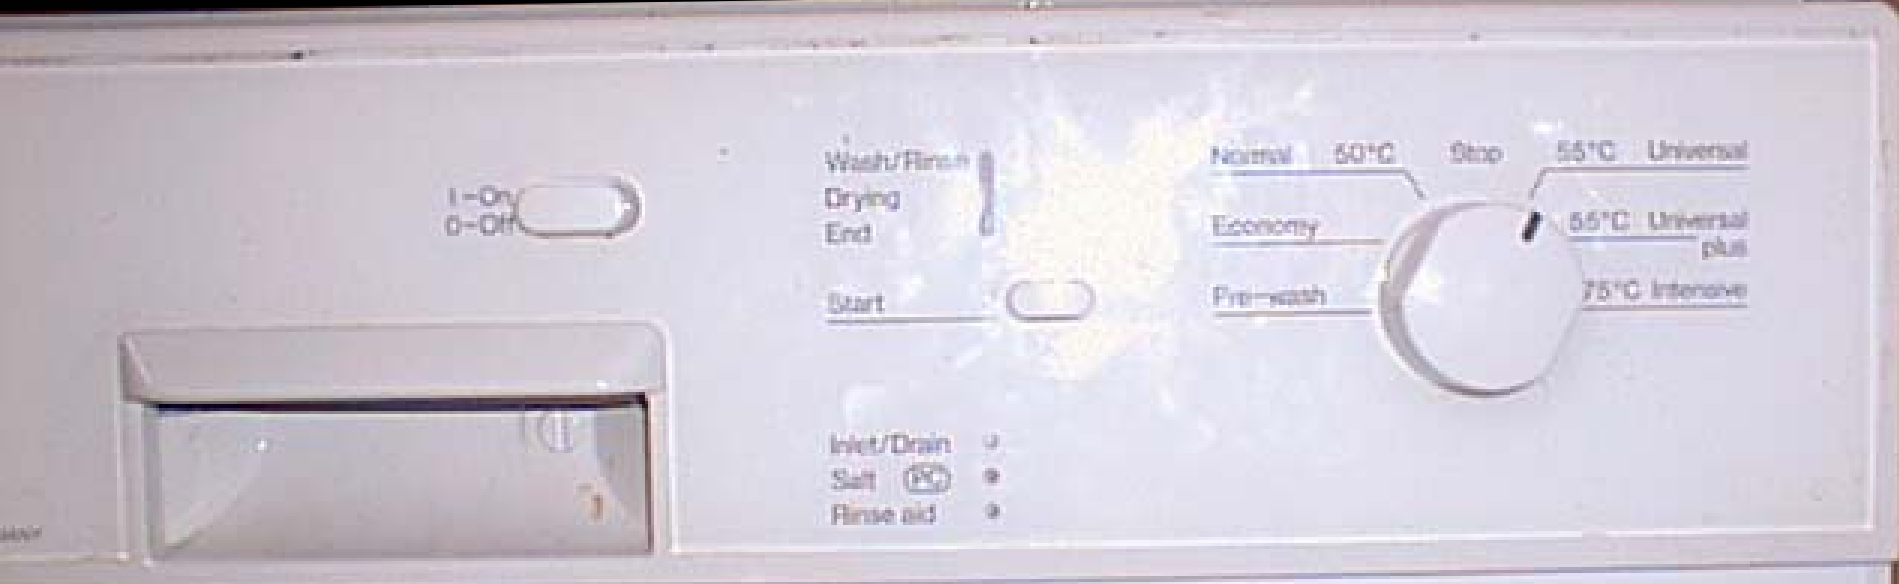

domestic resources & organisational practices

- a “calculus” of interdependent practices
- worked up and maintained locally
- dependent both on gross organisational expectations (e.g. topology, kitchen design, product design) and on locally relevant categories
- which cut across issues of technological categorisation and efficiency attend to the grammar

but are we (designers) are learning?

The "Home of the Distant Present"?

What understanding of domestic life is required by "smart homes"?

Tim Diggins
Red56
tim@red56.co.uk

and

Peter Tolmie
Xerox Research
peter.tolmie@xrce.xerox.com